

JOAN BOLZAN RN, MSL

Inspiration Through Leadership

Life has defining moments. Joan Bolzan wholeheartedly understands that when those moments come uninvited it is not the moment that defines us it is our response to those moments and what we learn from it.

Joan is no stranger to overcoming uninvited tragic experiences, yet she was recently challenged to her core with her husband's brain injury, which has led to his complete loss of memory of 46 years. In that moment, she transformed from the supporting role of wife, mother, and marketer in her husband's company, to the lead role in the family and family business in an instant.

Drawing on her personal values and leadership education she applies a mixture of passion and humor to motivate listeners to grasp the importance of preparing for the lead role. She reveals how she:

- *Battled through the loss of her daughter
- *Struggled with financial challenges and Depression
- *Dealt with her son's drug addiction
- *Husband's brain injury and profound amnesia

Through her inspiring and entertaining story, Joan gives us a glimpse on what her journey was like since her husband's complete amnesia, as well as other tragedies and how she continually challenged herself to overcome, persevere and learn through these unimaginable obstacles. She now feels compelled to apply her insight and teach the actions steps in her Pink Palm Tree Leadership to help others overcome their life's challenges and prepare for any role.
